

Agency 3-1

* Security 3 (Russia)

CPYRGHT

CEDAR RAPIDS (Ia.)
GAZETTE

Circ.: e. 57,776
S. 57,721

Front Page Edit Page Other Page

Date: 1 1954

CPYRGHT

Flight of More
Red Agents Told
By Allen Dulles

By Edwin Diamond.

CHICAGO (INS) — Allen Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, says "many more high-level" Red agents have defected to the West and are being questioned by the U.S.

He said Tuesday night that public announcements of these new defections "are being held back for the time being so we can delve more deeply into each case."

Dulles said the reason for continued secrecy is to piece together information of the Communist intelligence apparatus.

He said the cases involved key Red "secret police (MVD) agents" and indicated the mer and disclosures would rank in importance with recent defections of MVD officers in Germany, Poland and Australia.

While Dulles mentioned no names, it was apparent he was referring to Secret Police Chief Bozot Swiatlo, MVD Agent Vladimir Petrov and Secret Police Capt. Nikolai Khokhlov.

Dinner Speech.

All three fled to the West, seeking political asylum. Through Swiatlo the Noel field mystery was unraveled, through Petrov the Red underground in Australia was uncovered and through Khokhlov the inner workings of an assassins' ring were exposed.

Dulles, whose sensitive position as head of America's principal espionage agency has made him an infrequent public speaker, chose a private dinner of the University of Chicago law school alumni to describe Communist espionage techniques and CIA counter-measures.

He stressed he was outlining Red subversive methods to show how a "free society like ours which is based on respect for the laws can deal with the subversive threat of international communism."

He made these points:

1. Russia spends 10 percent of its military budget yearly in support of worldwide subversive activities.
2. The Red spy network has training schools in Russia which "graduate thousands" of professional agents and send them back to their native countries to work underground.

Making Progress.

3. International communism "is making progress in the Western Hemisphere."

4. Communist agents, although numerically small, have inspired the North African nationalist riots, the recent London dock strike and the disorders in Iran.

5. The Russians talk co-existence but there is nothing to indicate they are willing to abandon the subtle and insidious type of warfare that bores from within."

6. Although our free system leaves us open to the subversive techniques of the Communists, "the FBI and J. Edgar Hoover, are dealing adequately with the problem." This, however, is not the case in many parts of the world.

*Not sent to back
Copy to Dept for the Anti*